Step into an exploration of the mystical and practical wisdom of Dr. Franz Hartmann, the visionary German Theosophist whose teachings continue to inspire seekers of inner truth.

Rooted in the rich soil of Western esoteric tradition—including Hermeticism, Alchemy, and Christian mysticism—Hartmann's work opens gateways to the evolution of consciousness and the deeper, often unseen dimensions of reality. Discover how his teachings become a potent instrument not only for individual spiritual growth but for the advancement of humanity as a whole. This course invites you to reawaken your Imagination, strengthen your Intuition, cultivate Self-Knowledge, and activate your Will-Power—all in alignment with the Spiritual Laws that govern both the seen and unseen worlds.

Join us in rediscovering why Hartmann's voice, though rooted in the 19th century, speaks powerfully to the spiritual needs of the 21st. The primary material would be "Magic, White and Black", "The Life of Paracelsus", "Franz Hartmann in the Theosophist" and "Mysteries, Symbols and Occult Forces".

Susanne Hoepfl-Wellenhofer was born in Austria and has been living and working in the U.S. since 1986. Even before finding Theosophy and beginning to attend lectures in 2009, she has been following her own spiritual path and comparing religion, science, philosophy, and psychology for over 40 years and created her own website about her research (<https://spiritualityconsciousnessandme.com/>).

She is Eastern Director of the TSA, president of the D.C. Lodge, contributes to the Online School of Theosophy and the Theosophical Wiki on a regular basis, and she mentors prisoners. She has a law degree from the University of Graz and a master's degree in educational technology from George Washington University, where she worked for 20 years before retiring in 2019. She translated texts from the Theosophist Dr. Franz Hartmann from German into English, and teaches yoga and astrology.
